

Matt Richie

As the Innovation Business Development Consultant for TAFE Queensland, Matt Richie is responsible for supporting the evolution of organisations, industries and communities.

Matt delivers educational outcomes and develops resources to establish sustainable systems and innovation processes to ensure individuals and groups keep up with mass automation and complex systems.

Matt is a lifelong learner; immersing himself in science, engineering, computing and electronics, and his career has spanned IT, security and automation.

